Stewart family.

This ancient and honorable family of Stewart, of Liberty County, Georgia, arrived in this country at an early day, and first landed in North Carolina; thence moved to Dorchester, South Carolina, as early as 1723, and from there went to Liberty County, Georgia, in 1752, being among the first settlers in that county.

The chief of this line came from or near Edinburgh, Scotland, before 1723, as that is the date of birth of first child, although it is possible that the family came over with its father from Scotland. This family had a Coat of Arms, and has contributed to the welfare of the country in war and peace. Among its members of prominence may be mentioned John Stewart, Sr., who was one of the Selectmen of Midway Church in 1760, and who came to Georgia in 1754; General Daniel Stewart, a soldier of the Revolutionary War, after whom Stewart County in Georgia was named; his son, Colonel Daniel Stewart, and Judge Henry J. Stewart of Florida. This family was a prominent one in Georgia, owing to its standing, services performed and marriage alliances, and certainly ranks among the foremost of Liberty County, Georgia.

John Stewart, Sr., married Jerusha. He died 1765; she died 1762. They had John Stewart who married Hannah, and had

I. MARY STEWART, born near Dorchester, South Carolina, Sept. 22, 1723, married Wm. McLaughling.

II. JOHN STEWART, Jr., born February 13, 1726, married Susannah.

III. HANNAH STEWART, born February 10, 1729; married John Stewart, and had

I. JAMES STEWART.

IV. ELIZABETH STEWART, born March 1731; married Jno. McTeer.

V. DANIEL STEWART, born July 22, 1734; married April 26, 1764, Anne Ferguson. He died, Beaufort, South Carolina, 1765.

VI. REBECCA STEWART, born October 23, 1737.

VII. JAMES STEWART, born August, 3, 1732, married Susannah; and had

1. JOHN STEWART, born 1764; baptized November 1764; married Susannah Graves July 12, 1798, who died February 8, 1801. He married, second, Mary S. West, December 13, 1803.

2. JAMES STEWART, born October 31, 1766; married 1782, Elizabeth Jackson; and had

1. JAMES STEWART;

2. JOHN STEWART.

3. JOSIAH STEWART, born November 15, 1771.

4. SUSANNAH STEWART, born April 15, 1774.

John Stewart, Jr. and Susannah Stewart (Mrs. Susannah Stewart died October 21, 1766,) had

I. SARAH STEWART, born November 1751; married, February 19, 1767, Wm. Quarterman; and had

SARAH QUARTERMAN, married John Stacy; and had

*This information from an older member of the family who says the family was of Royal Descent.

JOHN W. STACY, married Mary Bacon; and had
REV. JAMES STACY, married and had issue.

II. ANN STEWART, born 1756.

III. SUSANNAH STEWART, born November 21, 1758; married Joseph Fox, July 1, 1776.

IV. DANIEL STEWART, born December 20, 1761; married first, Martha Pender; second, Susannah Oswald.

John Stewart, Jr., married, second, Sarah Nichols, August 7, 1769. and had

V. ELIZABETH STEWART.

John Stewart, Jr., died September 4, 1776.

General Daniel Stewart, son of John Stewart and Susannah, grandson of John Stewart, Sr. and Jerusha, and great-grandson of John and Hannah Stewart, was born December 20, 1761, and was a gallant soldier of the Revolutionary War, and to him the country owes a debt of gratitude which it can scarcely ever repay. Stewart County was named after General Daniel Stewart. He married, first, Martha Pender, November, 1783; he married, second, Susannah Oswald, daughter of either Robert and Susannah Oswald, planter in South Carolina, or of Joseph Oswald. This name extends back into the annals of Carolina to about 1723. and they were then found there as planters. In the Disqualifying Act the name of Joseph Oswald occurs as "planter," and both Joseph and Robert Oswald are found as members of Midway Church. In 1754 we find in South Carolina, Robert Oswald, of Pon-Pon, Colleton County, planter, and Susannah his wife. The name is a good one in Liberty County, Georgia.

NOTE.—We find in October, 1772, John Stuart, Councillor, taking oath of allegiance to George III; also, Jno. Stuart, Colonel of Artillery in Georgia Brigade of Continental Line; also in Disqualifying Act, Joseph Oswald, planter; and in list of those granted land in 1752, Joseph Oswald; in Disqualifying Act, Jno. Elliott, rebel officer; in 1754 we find Robert Oswald, planter, Pon-Pon, South Carolina, and Susannah, his wife; also James Oswald, son of Robert Oswald and Rachel Oswald, 1740, and Wm. Oswald, all planters, the name dating back to 1723. In Dis-

The gallant General Daniel Stewart, who so ably assisted the colonists in obtaining their independence and was so frequently in battle with Marion and Sumpter, was born October 20, 1761, at New Port, Georgia, and was married, first, at Dorchester, South Carolina, February 20, 1783, by Rev. Mr. Ellington to Martha Pender, who was born November 1763, Dorchester, South Carolina. She had one son:

- I. JOHN STEWART, born Dorchester, South Carolina, March, 21, 1784.

General Daniel Stewart was married, second, by Rev. Mr. Holmes to Susannah Oswald, who was born at New Port, Liberty County, Georgia, November 2, 1770, and died December 20, 1807; married January 1, 1786, and had issue:

- I. DANIEL McLAUGHLING, or McLAUGHLAN, STEWART, born October 4, 1791; married, January 1, 1824, Eliza Mary Eichelberger, or Eigelberger, in Glynn County, Georgia, by Rev. Mr. Morgan.

qualifying Act of British against the colonists, we find Joseph Oswald, planter. In Liberty County, Georgia, the name is a good one and connected with the best people, so we think that the father of Susannah Stewart was either Joseph or Robert Oswald, formerly of South Carolina. In a list of gentlemen from South Carolina, in Oglethorpe's Expedition to Florida, we find an Oswill.

Will of Hannah Stewart (widow John Stewart), leaves money to her mother, Hannah; speaks of her brothers, Daniel, James and John Stewart, sisters, Mary McLaughlan, Elizabeth McTeer, niece, Sarah Quarterman. Leaves property to Elizabeth, daughter of Wm. Wilson. Dated April 17, 1771. Recorded January 17, 1771.

Will of John Stewart, planter, St. Johns Parish, husband of Hannah, dated September 4, 1765, recorded October 31, 1765, leaves property to wife Hannah, son James Stewart.

Will of John Stewart, of St. Johns Parish, Georgia (long one), speaks of brother Daniel, son Daniel, daughters Sarah, Rebecca, and Elizabeth who was daughter of his second wife Sarah, sister of Captain Robert Nichols. Leaves property to Robert, son of Jonathan Wilson, late of Rhode Island, son-in-law Joseph Fox, relation James Girardeau—and is altogether a lengthy one. Date of will, March 9, 1776. Recorded November 22, 1776. There were several John Stewarts. The one who married Hannah Stewart, sister of John Stewart, was also John Stewart, probably a relation,

- II. MARY STEWART, born February 12, 1788; married Major Josiah Thomas Wilson, Clerk of Midway Church, of a family of standing in Liberty County, Georgia.
- III. SOPHIA STEWART, born December 5, 1793.
- IV. SUSANNAH STEWART, born September 14, 1794.

*NOTE.--John Quattlebaum, a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and wife, came from Germany about 1770 and with others settled on the Dutch Fork between the Saluda and Broad Rivers in South Carolina. His son, John Quattlebaum, Jr., was born there on December 1, 1774, and became a captain in the War of 1812, and served with his corps near Charleston, South Carolina. He served his country with great credit and patriotism, and was a man of great intellectuality and determined spirit. Paul Quattlebaum, son of John Quattlebaum, Jr., and Meta Burkett, was born July 8, 1812, died October 20, 1890. Few men have spent a purer and more useful life than General Quattlebaum. At an early age he was elected captain of a company and served in the Seminole War in Florida, and afterwards became Brigadier General of Militia, and served for a number of years in the State Legislature and Senate, and was one of the signers of ter of General Paul Quattlebaum, a captain in the Seminole War and one of the signers of Ordinance of Secession in South Carolina. Issue:

Elliott Family.

This ancient family came to Carolina at an early day and embraces among its members many honorable and eminent men, and as it has been a disputed point as to whether the family of Elliott of Liberty County, Georgia, belonged to the Northern branch who came with Rev. William Screven to Carolina, and was a very honorable line, or whether they belonged to the Elliotts who came from Cornwall, England, via Bermuda and then to South Carolina and known as the South Carolina Elliotts, or whether it belonged to some other branch of Elliott, it now seems proper to place the family where they rightly belong, hence we herewith present adequate proofs to show that the Elliotts of Georgia were an offshoot or branch of the South Carolina Elliotts. The Northern Elliott line are extinct as far as can be learned in male line in South Carolina.

We here introduce a copy of a deed taken from records in Carolina: "Between John Elliott of Colleton County planter, only son and heir at law of William Elliott, late of said county planter, deceased, who was only brother who left issue surviving him, of Thomas (John) Elliott late of said county planter, deceased, and cousin-german by his father's side and heir at law to Amaranthia Elliott, (afterward Amaranthia Lowndes) also late deceased, only surviving child of said Thomas (John) Elliott, deceased, who was only sister and heir at law of John Pendarvis Elliott and Edmund Elliott, the two only sons and devisees of said Thomas (John) Elliott, and who both died in infancy without issue, as did also said Amaranthia Lowndes (deceased), and Elizabeth, his wife of the one part and John Smith, and whereas the Lords proprietors granted to Thomas Elliott (great uncle of said John Elliott) lands on Stono River, and said Thomas Elliott did by deed poll 8 May, 1723, convey to his nephew said Thomas (John) Elliott by the name of Thomas Elliott, elder son of his brother, John Elliott, deceased, etc." "This Thomas Elliott was Thomas of Long Point, Cooper River, ancestors of the Beaufort Elliotst."

*Joseph Elliott-Elizabeth

*May have been a brother of Thomas and John Elliott. †Sells land in 1752 and removes to Georgia.

Will of Joanna Sumner of Colleton County, South Carolina, (widow of Joseph Sumner), proved October 6, 1741. She leaves, &c., "to pay my grand children as they come of age £40 each; to John, Ann and Elizabeth Elliott, children of William Elliott, deceased, and Edward and Sarah Baker, children of John Baker, deceased, and mentions her son William Baker.

William Elliott married Isabella Baker December 31, 1721, St. Andrews Parish,

In 1752 John Elliott sold his land in Carolina and as no further records is found of him we know he came to Georgia.

*Captain John Elliott came to Liberty County, Georgia, April 22, 1754 and in 1755 and 1756 we find him one of the selectmen of Midway Church, and chairman of the board in 1757. In a list of members of Midway Church we find Elizabeth Elliott. From the records of Midway Church and other sources the following facts are obtained, and the name of his wife and children, together with other circumstances prove that John Elliott, planter, and his wife Elizabeth, of Colleton County, South Carolina, came over to Georgia in 1754 after disposing of his land. He was son of William Elliott, son of John Elliott, brother of Thomas Elliott whose son William Elliott married Mary Gibbes Barnwell and had William Elliott married Phoebe Waight and Stephen Elliott married Esther Habersham, and had besides others: Stephen Elliott, Bishop of Georgia.

John Elliott, or Captain John Elliott so called in Midway records died in 1765. Elizabeth, his wife died March 1, 1785.

Their children were :

- I. JOHN ELLIOTT (Coloel John), born May 2, 1750 ; married August 9, 1770, Rebecca Jane Maxwell, of an old family.
- II. THOMAS ELLIOTT, born April 11, 1757 ; married Jan. 5, 1776, Ann Baker, born September 5, 1759, daughter of William Baker, Jr., (Colonel Baker.)
- III. AMARINTHIA ELLIOTT, born January 9, 1759 ; married May 17, 1774, †Daniel Roberts, (she married second Mr. Whitehead,) and had

AMARINTHIA ROBERTS.

*Chosen to represent Midway and New Port in Colonial Assembly January 31, 1755.

†Lieut-Colonel Second Georgia in 1778.

IV. ANN ELLIOTT, married 1766, Gideon Dowse, and had GIDEON DOWSE.

Dunwody Family.

An ancient Scotch family of the Laird rank, the name being spelt Dinwiddie, Dunwiddie, Dunwoody and Dunwody. In the acts of the Scottish Parliament we find the name of Dunwiddie one of the Lairds. A Governor Dinwiddie was an noted man of Virginia. The original name of the ancestor of the Georgia family was John Dinwiddie or Dunwoody of Londonderry, Ireland. The family removed to Georgia before the Revolutionary War, and Dr. James Dinwiddie or Dunwody came from Pennsylvania to Liberty County, Georgia, about 1770, and was one of the first physicans to practice medicine in that county. He was a sterling patriot member of the first Executive Council in Georgia when she threw off allegiance to British rule. He married Esther, widow of Benjamin Splatt and daughter of a Mr. Dean and Miss Marion, of the Marion family of South Carolina. They had

I. ESTHER DUNWODY, who married United States Senator John Elliott.

Senator John Elliott's daughter, Hester Elliott, married James Stephens Bulloch, son of Captain James Bulloch and Ann, daughter of Dr. John Irvine, of the Irvines of of Cults, son of Charles Irvine and Euphemia Douglass. Dr. Irvine married Ann Elizabeth, daughter of *Colonel Kenneth Baillie, ensign in Darien Company of rangers 1735, of a family who came from Inverness, Scotland. Captain James Bulloch was son of President Archibald Bulloch of 1776 and

*Colonel Kenneth Baillie married, it would seem. Elizabeth Mackay.

Mary DeVeaux. Esther Elliott and Major James S. Bulloch had

- I. CAPTAIN JAMES DUNWODY BULLOCH, who married first Lizzie Caskie, second Harriott Cross and had issue:
- II. COLONEL JAMES DUNWODY, born January 15, 1786, second child of Dr. James Dunwody and Esther Dean married a Miss Smith, daughter of James Smith of Darien, Georgia, and had
 1. DEAN DUNWODY married a daughter of Governor McDonald of Georgia, a descendant of Captain Cleveland, who fought the British at Kings Mountain, and had a numerous issue who have been in prominent positions in life.
 2. JANE DUNWODY married Rev. John Jones of an ancient family.
- III. JOHN DUNWODY born January 15, 1786; married Jane Bulloch, daughter of Captain James Bulloch and Ann Irvine, and sister of James S. Bulloch and John Irvine Bulloch.

Dr. James Dunwody died in 1807, his son John died in 1858.

There was a John Dunwody, also member of Governor's Council, we presume a brother of Dr. James Dunwody.

There were others of the name and family we presume.
